

EDUCATION A KEY COMPONENT IN THE FIGHT AGAINST HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Nita Belles, Author of "In Our Backyard" spends her days educating. Raising awareness about the prevalence of the trafficking of humans is key to ensuring that law enforcement knows what to look for; that attorney generals are pushing for the prosecution of perpetrators and for stricter laws, and that the public, in general, is informed about the ease with which young girls especially can be targeted and forced into prostitution and trafficking.

For your donation of $15.00, (incl. S&H) we will send you a copy of Nita Belles' "In Our Backyard, A Christian Perspective of Human Trafficking in the United States"

THE RIPPLE EFFECT OF EDUCATION

IN COUNTRIES WE CAN'T NAME: WOMEN ARE TAKING A STAND AGAINST PERSECUTION AND OPPRESSION

Education helps us understand that we can change the world - we can change the world by changing attitudes and by changing perceptions. This woman leader, like Nelson Mandela, will not allow her persecutors to determine her future. They may have destroyed her building but her soul remains intact. Her vision for the future is clear. She will stand firm in her resolve to be the change she wants to see in the world.

A woman stands looking at the remains of her business and church. Education has made her stronger. She resolves that this will not be the end but the beginning of a new chapter.

THE RIPPLE EFFECTS OF EDUCATION

Educating a Girl Can Save Her Life-Educating a Woman Can Save a Community

WITH THE PASSING AWAY THIS MONTH OF ONE OF AFRICA'S ICONS it is more important than ever that we continue his legacy. Being an African myself and a woman, I appreciate the legacy of education left by a man who understood its importance.

The ripple effects of his leadership and what it represented has significant implications for the way in which we live out our lives as leaders. We can repeat the patterns of the past - blame the world for our state of being or we can determine to change the future.

~ Gabriella Van Breda, Executive Director

WE CAN CHANGE THE WORLD AND MAKE IT A BETTER PLACE. IT IS IN YOUR HANDS TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE. -Nelson Mandela

"Together with many personal discussions with the Director, Gabriella Van Breda, I purely attribute my success to these trainings. They have opened my mind so tremendously that hardly a day goes without practicing some knowledge gained and extending the same to others. This is not only me but several other thousands."
