CONGRATULATIONS 2014 STUDENT GRADUATES

The China Program: "Its Impact on My Life & Ministry"

-Submitted by Doctoral Graduate Eleanor Chee

"It has been a privilege for me to study through The King's program here in Asia. The professors who came to Hong Kong to teach at The King's China Branch were dedicated men and women of God who loved the Word and were very pastoral. These characteristics were evident through the teaching content, the manner in which they taught, and their pastoral care to the student body. Their teaching challenged my mind and fed my spirit and as a result, refreshed and strengthened me for ministry. Their teaching also gave me a renewed love for the Word and created a strong desire to pass on all that I was learning. It provided me with a richer base from which to minister to those God has called me to work among. The teaching was not just theoretical but such that could be put into ministry and practiced in my daily life.

As a teacher and trainer of missionary candidates going to work in cross-cultural situations, the classes at King's have helped me to be better equipped not only to teach others but also encourage them on their mission journey to continue to study the Word, to love the Lord and walk closer to Him each day. I am so grateful to God for the opportunity to study through The King's University and now also to be able to continue to take classes even though I have graduated. I love the Word of God and appreciate the opportunity to continue learning from The King's University and its professors."

Words of Wisdom ~
By Doctoral Graduate Candy Lee

"The King's program has been a rewarding experience for me and my ministry. I have gained a lot through the program that will bring life-long benefits. Here are three key lessons:

Perception & Practice- A right perception of God leads to right practice of ministry. Through the program, I have reviewed and reflected on the perception of God which will sharpen and purify my ministry.

Information & Inspiration- The King's professors are excellent at turning information into inspiration! Their balanced view of the two demonstrates a discipline in academics as well as the Spirit. As leaders in the church, we should transform the information into inspiration that can encourage and empower the congregation to serve.

Professionalism & Partnership- The professors are always well-prepared and professional. The seminars have provided chances for classmates to share and become sojourners, partnering together to spread the Word."

"My life will never be the same after this program. The valuable lessons I've learned are bringing great blessings to my life as well as the people I serve." - Doctoral Graduate Student, Candy Lee

DID YOU KNOW?

Statistics have shown that most students who travel to the US to further their education often do not return to their home countries. The King's University provides quality American accredited graduate education to international students in their home countries. World Impact Network's partnership with The King's University helps provide Chinese Leaders with the necessary tools to influence their nation for God.

Human Trafficking: -What You Need to Know-

The following are excerpts from an interview with WIN Board Member Nita Belles. See full interview @ <http://halfstackmagazine.blogspot.com/2014/07/sex-trafficking-in-america-interview.html>

Q: If someone suspects they've found a victim, what should they do? A: If it is an immediate and critical situation, call 911 and provide as much data as you can to help police identify what you saw. (However do not try to intervene, it may be dangerous not only for you but the potential victim.) If it is something that a person saw in passing they can call (888) 3737-888, the national human trafficking hotline.

Q: What are the physical and psychological results of being involved in sex trafficking? A: Human trafficking involves unspeakable torture and atrocities too horrific to mention. A survivor of sex trafficking may have many of the same challenges as a veteran of war who has experienced extreme torture and/or seen horrific atrocities.

Q: How are victims usually preyed upon/kidnapped? A: Although some victims are kidnapped, it is a small percentage. The majority are lured by a charming trafficker who discovers their potential victim's needs and weaknesses and plays on those. The trafficker sells the victim on the idea that they are the best solution for those needs. They gradually win the victim's trust, then isolate them and maintain control by psychological means, physical abuse and threats to the victim or their loved ones.
